

Bay Area Ecosystems Climate Change Consortium

Climate Smart Actions for Bay Area Natural Resource Managers

Tuesday, September 24 – 8:30 am to 12:30 pm

Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation

1661 Page Mill Road, Palo Alto 94304

Agenda

- 8:30 Coffee, pastries and sign in
- 9:00 – 9:10 Welcome – Andrew Gunther, Executive Coordinator, Bay Area Ecosystems Climate Change Consortium
- 9:10 – 9:30 Projected Climate Change Impacts to the San Francisco Bay Ecosystem and Region – Tom Suchanek, Climate Change Coordinator, Western Ecological Research Center, US Geological Survey
- 9:30 – 9:50 Regional and local climate change impact projections: The Terrestrial Biodiversity Climate Change Consortium - David Ackerly, UC Berkeley
- 9:50 – 10:10 Principles for Climate Smart Conservation – Ellie Cohen, President and CEO, Point Blue Conservation Science
- 10:10 – 10:40 Bridging Vulnerability Assessment to Conservation Action: Case Study of the Upper Pajaro River Floodplain Restoration - Kirk Klausmeyer, Conservation Planner, The Nature Conservancy
- 10:40 – 11:00 The STRAW Climate Smart Stream Restoration Case Study, John Parodi, STRAW Restoration Manager, Point Blue Conservation Science
- BREAK
- 11:15 – 11:25 Staying Abreast of Climate Change Data and Tools: California Climate Commons – Deanne DiPietro, Data Manager, California Landscape Conservation Cooperative
- 11:25 – 12:25 Question and Answer Session with the Experts. During this session, the panelists and other experts will answer questions from the audience, including the issues raised most frequently in the responses to the questions posed in the registration process.
- 12:25 – 12:30 Summary and adjourn