

Advancing Coastal Resiliency in California and Beyond

July 19 – 20, 2017

University of California, Irvine

Save
the Date
And Register!

Join us for a FREE workshop with some of the leading experts on building and implementing coastal resilience!

Evening networking event on 7/19, Full-day workshop on 7/20

Click Here to Register

Photo Credit: Robert Schwemmer, NOAA, NOS, CINMS

--- Wednesday Keynote Speaker ---

Shana Udvardy, Climate Preparedness Specialist, Union of Concerned Scientists

--- Thursday Keynote Speakers ---

Professor Gary Griggs, Director of the Institute of Marine Sciences UCSC

Deborah Halberstadt, Executive Director of the California Ocean Protection Council

Jan Peelen, Policy Advisor to the Netherlands Ministry of Infrastructure and Environment

--- Objectives ---

- Learn from and build connections with coastal resiliency practitioners at the local, state, federal, and international scales
- Gain insight on opportunities and barriers to coastal resiliency actions
- Learn about environmental and social justice issues surrounding coastal resiliency in California, the United States, and beyond
- Increase understanding of partnership and funding opportunities as well as communication tools for increasing engagement

Presented By:

UCI IRVINE

UCI Newkirk Center
for Science & Society
UCI OCEANS

EMPOWERING
SUSTAINABILITY

CONNECTING LEADERS, FOSTERING ENGAGEMENT